THE GOOD SAMARITAN ACTIVITY PACK

WELCOME FROM Releasing children from poverty Compassion® AND minno® in Jesus' name

This activity pack features the brand new Good Samaritan episode from the Laugh and Grow Bible: Jesus Stories book and animated series. We hope these coloring sheets and games encourage kids and families to look for ways to love others the way Jesus loves us! Check out the last page for more information on Compassion and Minno.

10 WAYS TO LOVE YOUR NEIGHBOR

Color and cut out these “love your neighbor” ideas and put them in a jar or bowl.
Choose one each week to practice loving like Jesus.

Share a toy, snack, or book.

Make a card for someone who is sick or hurting.

Invite someone new to play.

Say something kind to brighten someone's day.

Bring food, clothing, or toys to your local food pantry or outreach ministry.

Pray for a friend, neighbor, or a child living in poverty.

Make cookies for your neighbor.

Write a letter to a child in the Compassion International program.

Give someone a flower to make them smile.

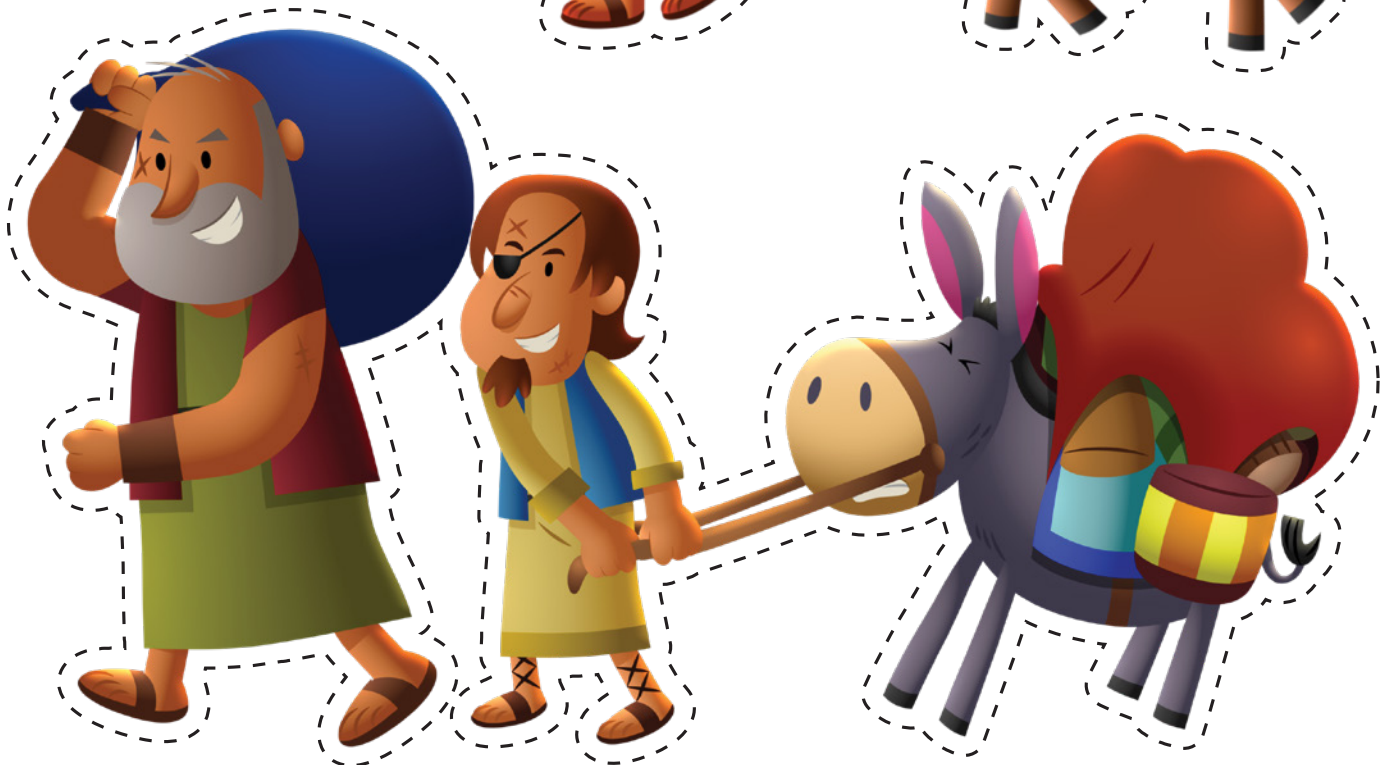

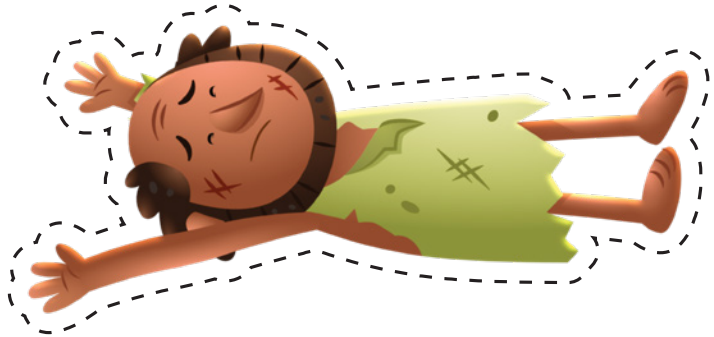

Clean up even if you didn't make the mess.

CUT AND PLAY

Print the images on cardstock for extra durability or laminate them to keep the fun going even longer! Then cut them out and bring the story of the Good Samaritan to life in a sandbox, sensory bin, or anywhere around the house.

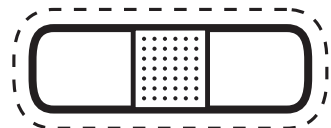

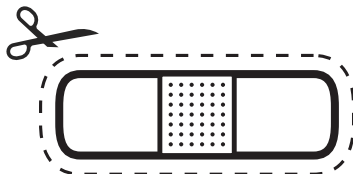

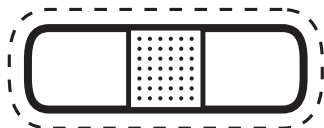

CUT AND PLAY

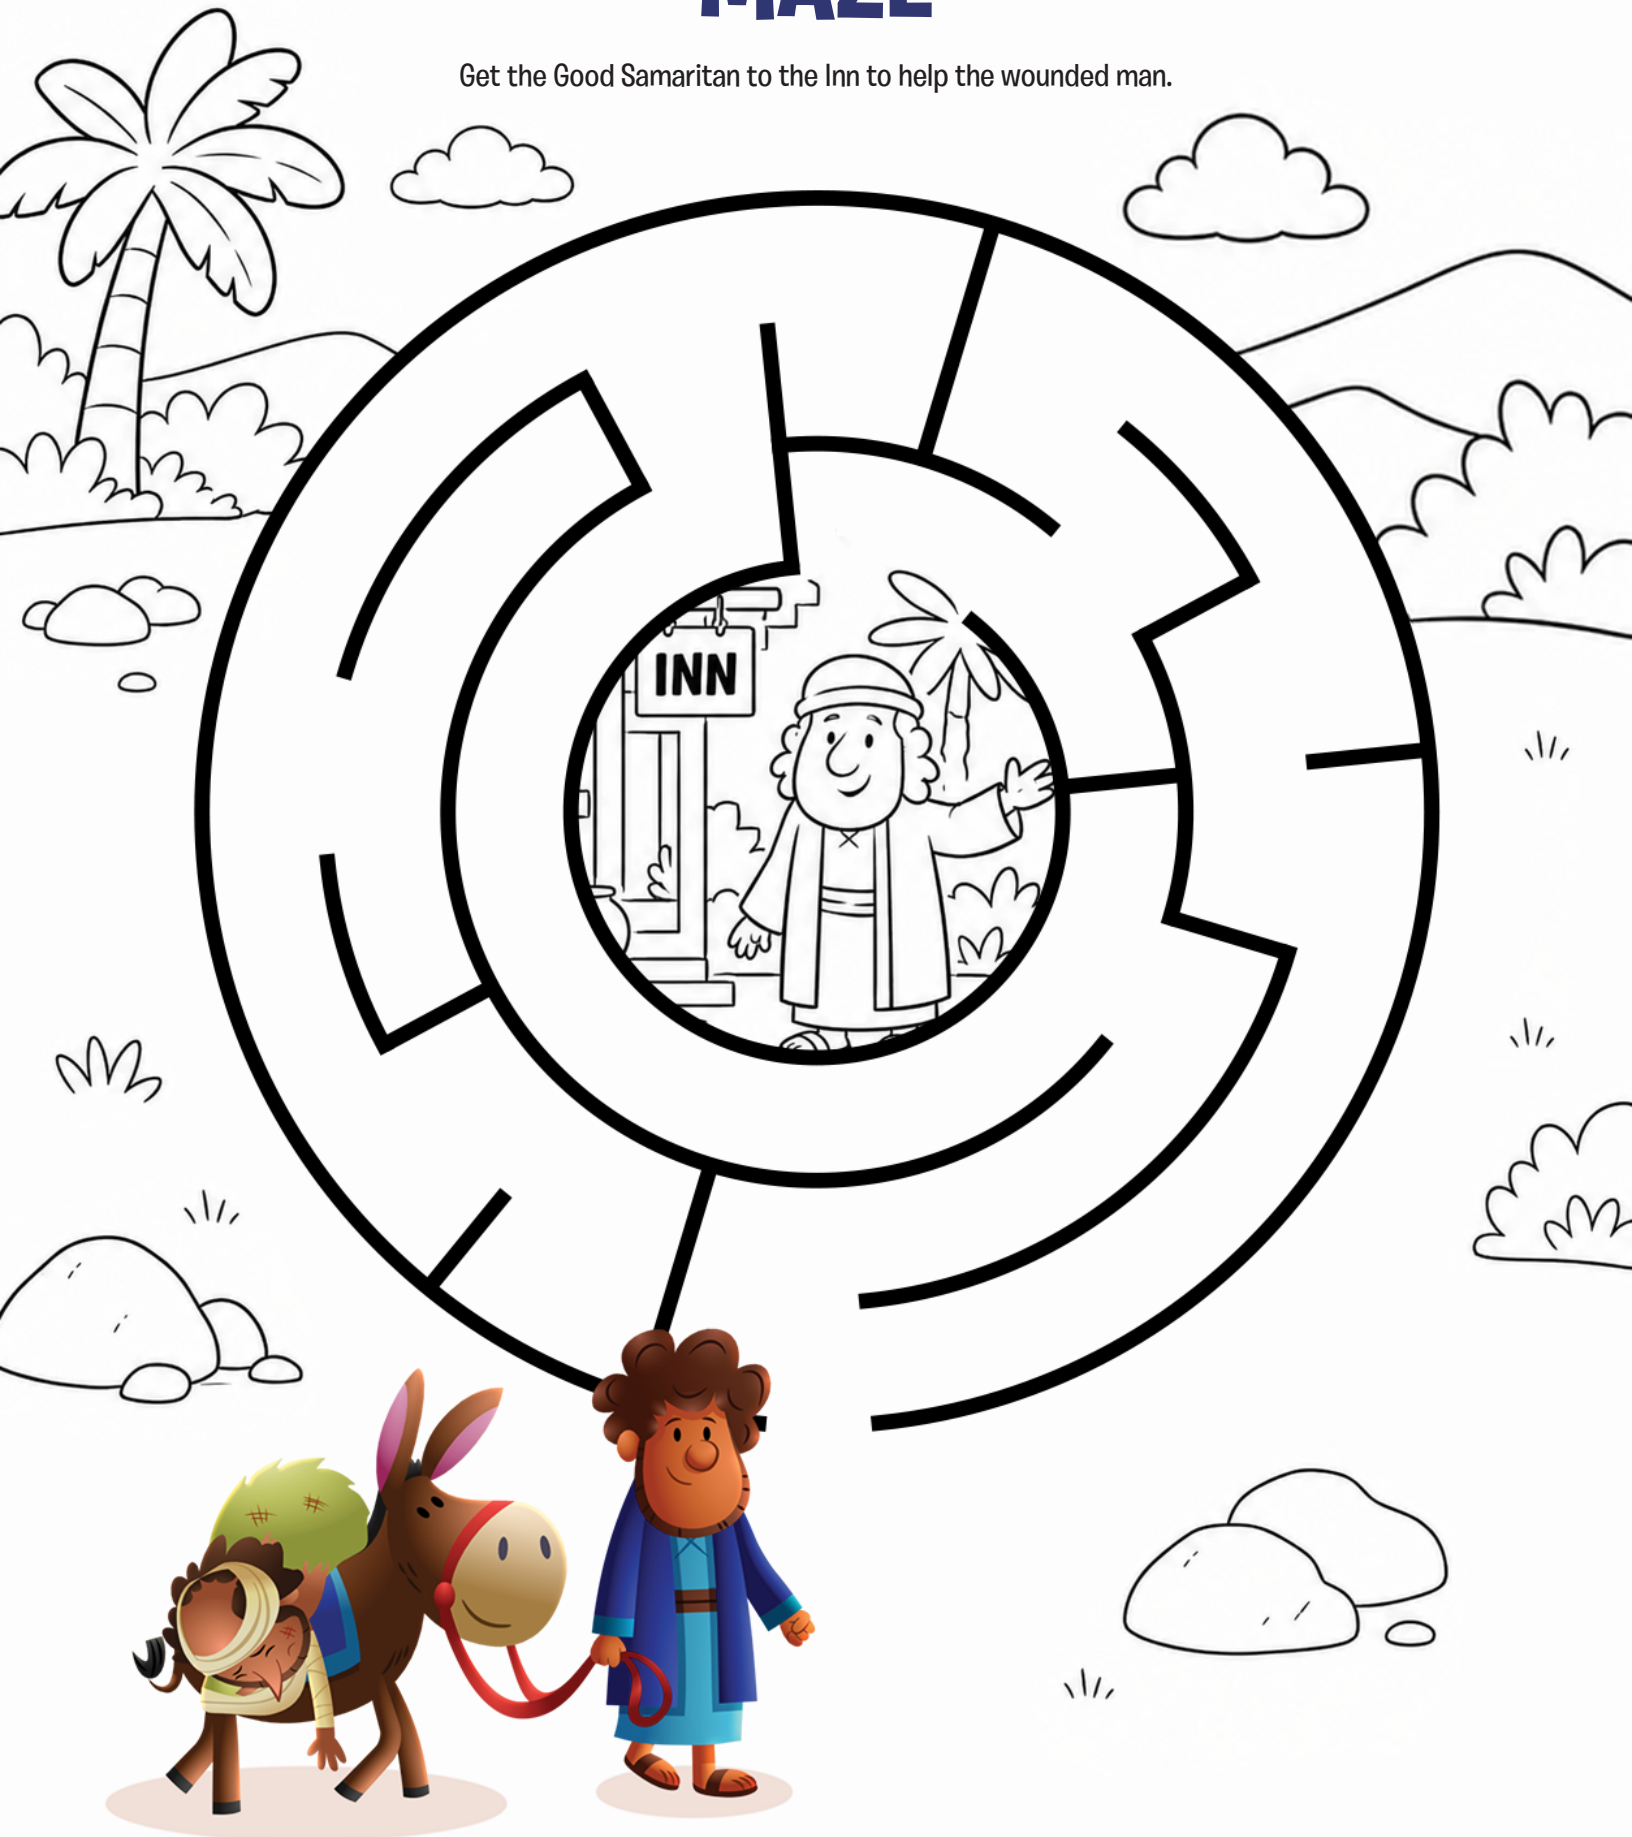

HELP BANDAGE THE WOUNDED MAN

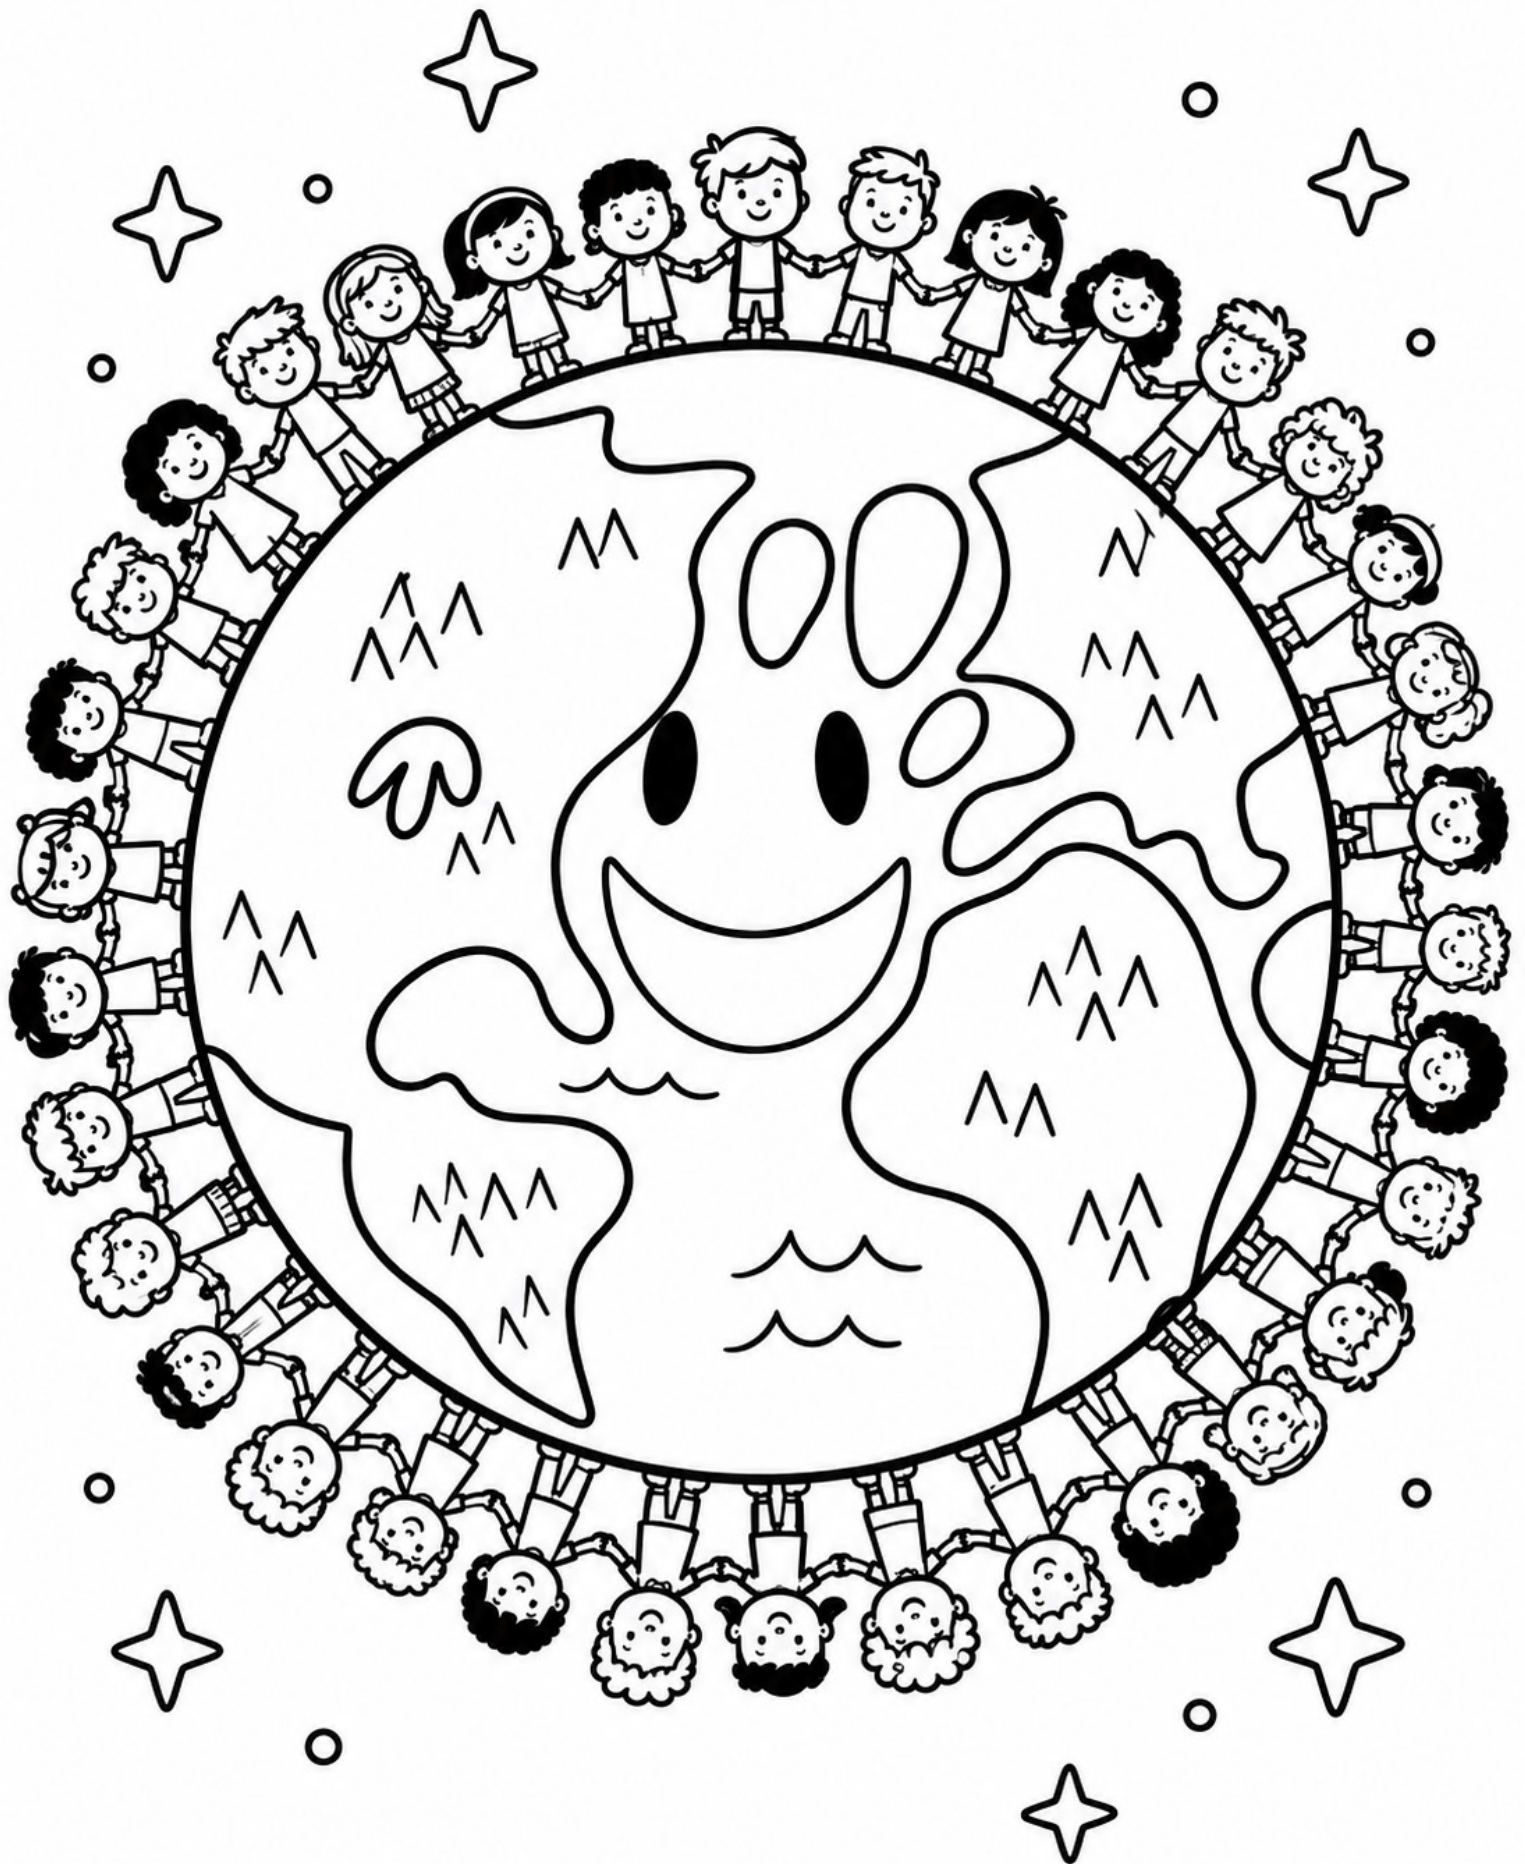

Color the picture and bandages then cut them out and place them on the wounded man to care for him like the Good Samaritan.

MAZE

Get the Good Samaritan to the Inn to help the wounded man.

THE GOOD SAMARITAN FAMILY DISCUSSION GUIDE

READ

(Luke 10:25-37)

Jesus said we should love our neighbors as ourselves. But who exactly is our neighbor?

Jesus answered that question by telling the story of the Good Samaritan. A man was hurt and needed help. Two people walked right past him. But then a Samaritan stopped. That was surprising because Samaritans and Jewish people didn't get along! They were different from each other, and sometimes those differences made them enemies.

But the Samaritan didn't let their differences stop him from showing love. He helped the hurt man, cared for him, and made sure he was safe.

Jesus ended the story by saying, "Go and do the same!"

Our neighbor isn't just the person who lives next door. Our neighbor is anyone God puts in our path . . . even someone who looks, talks, thinks, or acts differently than we do.

When we notice someone who needs kindness, we can stop. We can help. We can love.

TALK

1. Who helped the hurt man on the road when others walked by?
2. How can you be a good neighbor and help someone today?

SAY

God helps me be kind to everyone!

PRAY

Dear God, help us to notice those who need Your love and kindness.
Please show us how to love others no matter what. Amen.

REMEMBER

Love your neighbor as yourself. Mark 12:31b

Compassion International shares the hope of the gospel by releasing children from poverty in Jesus' name. Jesus' parable of the Good Samaritan has inspired us for 75 years to partner with local churches to care for vulnerable children's needs – in mind, body and soul. With this care, children can become healthy and confident followers of Jesus, empowered to overcome poverty and help others do the same.
